THE PROGRESSIVE FARMER," by J. A. Nasit. (12mo. pp. 234. C. M. Saxton.) This is a scientific treatise on agricultural chemistry and geolosy, the cultivation of the soil, and the care of domestic nals. The principles of chemistry, geology, and vegetable physiology, in their application to practical agriculture are explained with clearness and accuracy.

Many valuable suggestions are presented in regard to the every day details of farming life, furnishing a useful subject of study for the winter evenings.

LECTURES TO CHILDREN," by Rev. JOHN Todd, D. D. (12mo. pp. 267. Northampton: Hopkins, Bridgman & Co.) A new edition of a work which has passed through fifteen editions in this country, and per-haps as many more in England, and been translated into French, German, Greek and many other languages. What better proof of its popularity if not of its merit! The author, certainly, possesses a singular fertility of illustration and an uncommon skill in clothing abstract ideas in picturesque language. Children must find his little book an agreeable alternation with the study of the Westminster Catechism

"MY LIFE AND ACTS IN HUNGARY," by ARTHUR GÖRGEI. In this volume we find a tissue of ingenious special pleading, set forth with studied coolness, in defense of the conduct of Görgey in the Hungarian Revolution. The author is entitled to the benefit of his elaborate vindication, so far as to guarantee it an impartial hearing, but we do not discover any thing in his statements adapted to change the current of public opinion. (12mo. pp. 616. Harper & Brothers.)

"MEMOIRS OF A HUGUENOT FAMILY," by ANN MAURY. This volume comprises a translation of the autobiography of Rev. JAMES FONTAINE, with other family manuscripts and original documents. It is filled with curious antiquarian facts, and presents the fortunes of the Huguenots in a clear light. (12mo. pp. 512. Geo. P. Putnam & Co.)

"A STORY OF LIFE ON THE ISTHMUS," by JOSEPH W. FABENS. This is a chapter from the ro mance of travel, presenting more fancies than facts. Of little value as a guide-book, it furnishes many amusing stories, and may serve to enliven the tedium of a voyage or a railroad excursion. (12mo. 215. G. P. Putnam & Co)

The Second Course of Dr. LARDNER'S HAND-BOOKS OF NATURAL PHILOSOPHY AND AS TRONOMY," containing Heat, Magnetism, Common and Voltaic Electricity, is issued by Blanchard & Lea, Philadelphia. It forms a neat, substantial volume, with over two hundred wood engravings. (Sold by Dewitt

"MEYER'S UNIVERSUM." The last two issues of this serial (Nos. X and XI) contains a view of Wall-st., accompanied with letter-press descriptions and remarks on the natural history of "bulls and bears." The General Post-Office in Washington and Lake George Scenery are also among the American subjects. The engravings are soft and highly finished.

"THE WORKS OF SHAKSPEARE."-We have the Sixth Volume of Mr. Hupson's admirable edition of Shakspeare, containing the Three Parts of Henry VI. The Introduction presents an acute vindi cation of the authenticity of these Plays, against the objections of Malone. In the Notes, which are brief and to the point, the Editor illustrates his own good taste and Shaksperian learning. (Boston: James Mun-

THE TWO YOUNG COMMUNICANTS. "THE STANDARD BEARER," "FLOWERS OF THE FORmer," are the titles of three juvenile works issued by the "Protestant Episcopal Society," combining pleasant parrative, useful information, and evangelical doctrine,

"THE VICTORIES OF WELLINGTON."-A new edition of this popular English work, describing the movements of the British army under Wellington, with sketches of his most distinguished Generals, has been issued in London by Bohn and is sold by Baugs, CHAMBERS' " PAPERS FOR THE PEOPLE."-The Ninth and Tenth Volumes of this excellent mis-cellany are issued by J. W. Moore, Philadelphia. Few periodicals designed for popular use can be so cordially recommended as this most valuable publication.

"ORATORY," is the title of a Poem delivered before the Literary Societies of the New-York University by E. DELAFIELD SMITH. It celebrates the praises of famous orators in flowing numbers, and is a superior specimen of Anniversary postry.

"Aunt Errie's Raynes" and "The DOLL AND HER FRIENDS," are two new juvenile books brought out in a superb style, by Ticknor, Reed & secunded to him. Mr. Clark, believing all to be cor-Fields, and sold by G. P. Putnam & Co.

"BIANCA," by EDWARD MATURIN-A graphic story, describing life in Ireland and Italy, written in a rapid, dashing style, with frequent passage of great brilliancy. (12mo. pp. 395. Harper & Brothers.)

"FLIGHTS OF FANCY," by ELLA RODNAN. A volume of magazine stories and sketches, not in any way superior to the common run of that "fatally facile" class of writings. (12mo, pp. 340. John S. Tay-

The Lecture before the Mechanics' So ciety lest night was by Professor Doremus, on Chemis try. His remarks were illustrated by a great number of beautiful and remarkable experiments, not within the province of a reporter's notes.

A regular meeting of the N. Y. Reading Club was held last night at University Chapel. The proceedings were interesting.

Rev. J. Harper delivered, last night, in the Church corner of Houston and Greene-sts., an interesting scientific Lecture upon Water. We learn that it was well attended.

The Young Men's Christian Association held their regular meeting last night. The proceedings were not of public importance.

A CALIFORNIAN SWINDLED BY MOCK AUC-TIONEERS, GAMBLERS, &c.-Indictment, Arrest and Imprisonment of Six of their Number .- On the 1st inst. a Mr. Abm. V. Clark, a resident of Illinois, but recently from California, where he has lived for two years past, arrived in this City, on his way West, and had scarcely landed before he was picked up by a mock auction stool-pigeon named Patrick Cregan, who in duced him to enter the mock suction shop of James D. Shepherd and John Springer, No. 162 Nassau-st., where he was induced to put up for sale a watch which he had previously bought for about $40. This was knocked down to a Peter Funk for $75, who said he would run around to his hotel for the money. While this fellow was gone, Shepherd, the auctioneer, put up another watch, which was knocked down to Austin J. Porter, another Peter Funk, for $100, but Mr. Porter, unfortunately, had no money with him, and attempted to borrow the amount from his stost-pircon friend, Patrick Cregan, Mr. C. was also short, and he appealed to his new friend, the Californian, to loan him the amount till he could go to his boarding house, where he said he had $1,500 in bank bills and $1,200 in gold coin, and in order to secure the Californian against loss, he requested that he would keep the watch in his possession until the money was rest, leaned Cregan $100 and took the watch, As soon, however, as the money was paid, James Wood, a peter-funk jeweler, stepped up to Mr. C., and with a magnifying glass in his hand, asked permission to inspect the watch which Mr. Cregan had just purchased. locked a moment or two at it, and turning to Cretended to be wonderfully amazed, and said to the aucioneer, "I want a good watch, no matter what it A watch was then brought out, and the suction eer, before putting it up, said it was the only one of the kind in the country; that it was made in England, and that it was merely sent out here as an experiment, to see whether good watches were appreciated by the American people. The value of the article, he said was $700. The bidding then commenced, and the watch was finally knecked down to Pat. Cregan for $550. Mr. Clark was then again appealed to for a loan to pay for the watch, and was reassured by Cregan that he had a large amount of funds at his hotel, where they would scon go and settle up. Mr. C. then inquired of Shepherd, the auctioneer, as to the character of Cregan, and in reply Shepherd said, "Sir, that man is trustworthy and perfectly responsible." On these representations the money was paid by Mr. Clark. Another watch, represented to be, if anything, more valuable than the other, was then put up, and knocked down to Cregan for $500, and the money to pay for this was also bor rowed from the Californian, who had now in his possession several watches, worth altogether about $175, for which he had paid upwards of $1,100.

Cregan and Mr. Clark then left the shop and went to a hotel where the former represented he stopped; he seen discovered, or pretended to discover that his father, who he said had all his money in his passes sion, had started for Philadelphia, and informed Mr. C. that such was the case, and both hurried over to Jer-sey City and went through the train of cars, but could not and the Peter Funk father. They then returned to the City, when Cregan gave his victim the slip and he was left alone with a heavy heart. He, however, did not remain in this state long, for an associate of the gang, who was fully aware of what had occurred, soon come up to him and wormed out of him all that had occurred; the fellow then said, "I was served in the same way a few days since and went to a certain lawyer, who got all my money back; come with me and let us see what he can do." Mr. C.'s spirits, at this inintelligence, began to revive, and he went through the Park with his new friend, but scarcely had they gone ten rods before the rascal pretended to come scross the lawyer, and stepping up to another of the infamous gang, told the circumstances, and was informed that by calling at his office at 9 o'clock on the following morning, the matter would be properly attended to. It being now evening, Mr. Clark was induced by his newly found acquaintance to visit Christy's Minstrels, and afterward to go with him to a gambling house, where he borrowed $700 of Mr. Clark, and then give him the slip. After reflecting a few days on what course to purs to bring the rascals who had robbed him to justice, Mr. applied to officers Burley and Wm. H. Stephens, of the Lower Police Court, and Brown, of the Chief's of fice, who took the matter in hand. Officer Burley succeeded in frightening the rascal who had borrowed the last-named $700 into restoring upward of $500 of it. Yesterday morning Mr. Clark went before the Grand Jury, and made a lengthy affidavit, of which the above is a synopsis, and that body, in the course of the day, indicted James D. Shepard, Patrick Cregan, Jas. Wood, John Springer and Thos. Cregan for false pretenses;

Patrick Cregan, Austin G. Forter and Shepard for grand larceny, Cregan on two indictments; and Wood for petit larceny. These indictments were handed into Court, and warrants for the arrest of the accused were immediately made out by the Recorder, and placed in the hands of the above named officers, who succeeded in arresting the parties above named. They were brought before the Court, and committed to the Tombs, in default of $1,000 bail on each several indictment, to await trial. Others of the gang are implicated, but have not as yet been arrested.

A MODEL COURT HOUSE .- Our Reporter of the Drury trial says: That the Court House at North Hempstead is an old wooden building, pleasantly situated on the far-extending plain. The worst thing about it is that the court room is warmed by a stove, and is quite destitute of any means of ventilation except the doors and windows, which are rarely left open. One would suppose that to keep a jury here through a long term would be about equivalent to inflicting capital punishment upon some of them. This building also contains cells for the prisoners, and in term time it answers the triple purpose of court house, prison and hotel, and he can testify to the fatness and excellence of the roast turkies which are served up there. The question of changing the place for holding the Courts, and erecting a new Court House, either at Hempstead village or at Jamaica, is now agitated in the county."

He also gives the following incident: "In passing by the Court House a few mornings since, my attention was attracted to a young woman who had clambered up upon something to the window of a cell the back side of the building. Her hands purple with cold, were clinging to the iron grating while she was gazing with deep emotion upon some object within. Upon inquiry I learned that she was the wife of a young Irishman who had been convicted a few days previous of stealing poultry, and sentenced to several years of confinement at Sing Sing. Thus do we find the darkest spots of earth illuminated by the love of woman; glowing even with increased lustre when surrounded by desolation and crime; and seeking with the fidelity, the generosity, the devotion which are the divine qualities of its nature, to soften the hard way of the transgressor, and to cheer the gloom of the prison."

DESPERATE CASE OF STABBING .- Mr. Joeph H. Bunting, living at No. 199 Duane-st., while passing through Greenwich-st, near Franklin, accompanied by two friends, on his way home, at 12 o'clock on Sunday night, got into a dispute with a stranger who was passing in the opposite direction, when the latter, as is aid, without provocation, drews dirk knife and stabbed Mr. B. severely in the forehead and twice in the back, inflicting wounds of a dangerous character. The asessein then fled and made his escape. Mr. Bunting was taken to the Fifth Ward Station House by his friends, where Dr. Kilbourne was called to dress his wounds. after which he was taken to his residence.

SHOCKING MURDER .- A Woman Beaten to Death by a Drunken Husband .- Coroner Ives was yesterday called to hold an inquest upon the body of Mrs. Catharine Tumey, at No. 153 West Thirty-second-st., whom it is alleged was murdered by her husband, John Tumey. The circumstances of the affair, as far as have been ascertained, are contained in the following testimony, elicited before the Coroner's Jury. The first witness sworn was

Ann Curry, who testified as follows : I reside on the third floor of house No. 153 West Thirty-second-st. and have known the deceased since February last; yesterday (Sunday) between 8 and 9 A. M., I heard a scream from the room of deceased, which is directly under mine, and I thought at the time it was Mrs. Tumey's voice : nothing more passed at that time, but last night about 6 o'clock I was in my room with my husband and cousin, when I heard some one in Mrs. Tumey's reom call for a light; I took a candle and went down; she was lying on the floor in the front room and was dead Tumey, Mrs. Drady, her daughter, Patrick Curry, John McCabe, Mrs. O'Neil, Mrs. O'Mulligan, and two or three others had just entered the room; Mr. Tumey was kneeling over his deceased wife's head and callin her by name; he said, "Do you not love me?" and "Do I not love you?" I do not know whether he was sober or not; I saw bruises on the head and neck of the deceased; I have frequently heard screams from Mrs. Tumey's room : some time ago she came into my room at dinner time and sat until 10 o'clock at night she said she did so to escape her busband; she also said that he had besten her; she had a black eye at the time; I never saw either of them drunk to my knowledge, but have seen liquor taken into their room at different

THE LATE FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE HARLEW RALLHOAD.—The Coroner, on Saturday morning, held an inquest upon the body of Edward Morrison, a laborer in the employ of the Harlem Railroad Company, whose death was caused by injuries received on the 9th instant in consequence of a car upon which he was at work being ran into by a freight train belonging to the New Haven Railroad. The particulars of the accident, by which two or three other persons were injured, were published at the time of its occurrence. An investigation was made for the purpose of ascertaining who, if any one, was to blame, and the following verdict was rendered by the Jury. That the said Edward Morrison came to his death by delirium tremens, consequent upon injuries received upon the Harlem Railroad upon the 9th inst. The Jury are of the opinion that theswitches were probably altered by some malicious person, and hence the cause of the accident. The Jury further say that it is the duty of the Company to have the switches locked, except at such times as they are actually in use, and then some responsible person should have charge of them. They therefore recommend the Coroner to take such means to prevent a similar accident as he may think proper. The deceared was 43 years of age, and a na-tive of treland. He leaves a wife and four children in indigent circumstances.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT ON THE HARLEN RAIL. ANOTHER ACCIDENT ON THE HARLEM RAILROAD.—On Saturday afternoon last, as a down train of cars on the Harlem Railroad, loaded with cartle, was approaching Bedford, one of the brakemen, named John McNulty, was pushed off the forward car by an ox. He fell across the track and the train passed over him, cutting off his left leg at the thigh, so that it hung only by a shred of skin, and badly mashing his hund, besides causing other bodily injuries. The wounded man was taken to Bedford Village, where he received such immediate medicial attendance as his case demanded. On Sunday evening he was brought to the City, and conveyed to the New-York Hospital.

DISTURBANCE AT THE FULTON FERRY -- Offi-DISTURBANCE AT THE FULTON FERRY.—Offi-cers Babcock and Curry arrested a man named Francis Hamilton Friday afternoon, for committing an un-provoked sysault upon a man who was peaceably walk-ing along the street. A large crowd soon collected about, and an attempt was made to rescue the prisoner, but failed, and he was taken to the Second District Sta-tion-house. The officers, however, fared rather badly, having had their clothes torn nearly all off. Thomas Farrell was subsequently recognized as one of those who interfered with the officers, and he also was taken into custody.

ENTRY THIEVES .- On Friday evening a fellow existed at the house of David Barker, No. 32 Willoughby-st, representing to the servant attending at the door that he wished to see the man of the house. Depication -- Mechanics' Lodge, L. O. of O. was dedicated to the service of Odd Fellow riday evening last, in Wellwod's Hall. A large Friday evening last, in Wellwod's Hall. A large number of the Order were present and participated in the performance of the ceremonies. At the adjourment of the meeting they repaired to Van Doram's saloon, where a sumptuous repast was served, to which ample justice was done. At a late hour the Grand Master presented Mechanics' Lodge with a valuable Bible, with appropriate remarks, which were responded to by the Chaplain of the Lodge in a happy manner, after which the company entertained themselves with speeches to toasts, and songs. The meeting adjourned to a late hour—all highly gratified with the incidents of the occasion.

Poor Association .- A meeting of the Society Poor Association.—A meeting of the Society for Bettering the Condition of the Poor was held at Franklin Hall hast Saturday evening, ex-Mayar Gilchrist Presiding. Speeches were made by several members of the Association, showing the necessity of extending the field of operation in order to reach all cases worthy of the assistance of the Society. The Committee of Investigation was directed to make inquiries relative to the condition of the poor, and report at a future meeting. Measures were taken to relieve those reported in destinate circumstances, and the meeting adjourned, several persons having connected themselves with the Association.

SUICIDE IN UPPER RAHWAY .- The Rahway SUICIDE IN UPPER KAHWAY.—The Rahway Republican says, on Tuesday morning last, Mr. Almond Curtis, a respectable and worthy citizen, while laboring under temporary insanity, cut his threat with a razor in a shocking manner. His wife, who entered the room just at the time deed was committed, succeeded in wresting the razor from his hands, not, however, until two deep gashes had been made in his neck. He lingored until Saturday evening last, when life departed. He was 38 years of age, and has left his wife and four small children to mourn his loss.

EXTRADITION CASE.
In the case of Augustus Barr, a German,

In the case of Augustus Barr, a Cerushi, chered with stabbing, with an intent to murder, another passinger on board the British ship Fitzjames, and claimed by the British Corsul under the treaty. The testimony showed that Barr knocked the other man down, who got up and seized Barr by the throat, and while so holding him. Barr stabbed him, but not severely, in the breast with knife he held in his hand, and the man has since, it appears, recovered. The Commissioner thought, the "intent to murder." which, under the common law, means premeditation, had not been made out, and Barr was discharged.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—Before Judge DALY.

ACTION FOR DIVORCE.

The complaint says the parties were married and wife until about 8th Aug. 1831. He charges her with indicatity, as relates to parties named.

The answer denies the charges—alleges that defendant, when she became married to paintiff, was possessed of furniture and other property to the amount of $1,000, which plaintiff converted to his own use, he having none at the time—that plaintiff has become possessed of something like $25,000—of which $10,000 is real saids—a very large portion of which has been accumulated by said defendant's industry in devoting her whole time and isbor to the business of a bearding-house keeper, having constantly had a large number of boarding—that shortly before this action commenced plaintiff wanted here to sign a deed which would have conveyed away her inferest therein, and upon her retinant to execute it he said they would be shortly two; he subsequently proposed to give her $3,000 and pay her passage to any part of Europe. If she would agree to a separation, and leave the United States, which she refused to accede to, and he then again threatened that they would soon be two—and that his object in communicing this suit is to disposace her of her rights, &c. This is denied. Testimony was taken.

The counsel for plaintiff said they wished to examine one more witness, but he is not in Court. Adjourned to this forenoon.

MONDAY, Dec. 20-P.M.

There was a moderate business done at the Morning Board, which opened heavy and continued heavy at the close. At the Second Board the market was more active, and the tendency of prices was upupward. There was considerable disposition evinced buy the leading Fancies, and full prices were bid at the close. The most considerable change to-day was in Long Island, the corner in which seems to be broken. It sold down to 39, and was offered at that figure at the close, a decline of 71 P cent. A bear sale was made at 30, seller 12 months. Erie was firm at the Second Board, and closed at 961-3961. The business on the Road continues to be very large. Stonington was in demand at 58, and Norwich was better. Harlem is not buoyant, and closed at 73. The Coal Stocks were in good demand, and had an upward tendency. New Creek sold at 5 @6; Parker Vein 62, buyer sixty Cumberland 67, buyer sixty. Centen sold at 1161. is understood that the number of shares is to be increased to 50,000. Zinc was active, and the report published this morning appears to have had a favorable effect, as the market advanced 37 jc. P share. Crystal Palace sold at 135, a further advance of 5 P cent. Morris was heavy. In premium Stocks the market was not active. Bonds were in good demand, and had an upward tendency. Considerable sales of Eric Corvertibles were made at full prices. The market for Exchange is dull, and the leading drawers have put their rates down to 10 Ψ cent. for sterling, and good bills can be had at 94 Ψ cent. The inquiry for the steamer is quite light. Freights are not active but well held. To Liverpool 3,000 or 4,000 bbls. Flour, 3/924/; 10,000 bush. Wheat, 11d. @12jd.; 500 bales Cotton, 5-16d. @jd., and 9-16d. for Sea Island; Beef, 5/; 500 bbls. Resin, 3/6. To London we hear of nothing of importance; a foreign vessel took 2,000 bbis. Flour at 3/6. To California there is a large business doing at full prices.

Money continues in active demand, with a fair but not superabundant supply. The rates on call are 5@7 P cent, the market not being easy at snything less than 6 P cent. First class short paper 697 cent. The banks feel easier in regard to specie, and are supposed to hold a million and a half to two millions more than they did at the time of the last count. The Sub-Treasury made a liberal disburse ment again to-day - $355,027. Received, $172,010. Balance, $3,025,441.

The Chemical Bank has declared 6 P cent. psyable Jan. 8. The Naugatuck Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 P cent., payable on the 1st of January, to New-York stockholders, at the office of R. & G. L. Schuyler, in this City.

The Cheshier Road has made a dividend of 2 per cent. on its preferred stock, payable Jan. 1. This makes 5 per cent. for the year. The increase over the receipts of last year, about $45,000, has nearly all been within the last 6 months. The Boston and Worcester Railroad has declared a half-yearly dividend of 3| per cent.

There is a good inquiry for State and Railroad Bonds, and the market is well sustained. Mr. Richard Schell negotiated to-day with Mesers, Cammann, Whitehouse & Co., for Messrs, Brown, Bros. & Co. and August Belmont, $300,000 Tennessee Sixes at 108, ex dividend.

The advices from Europe have been followed by a rise of 181225c. in Flour, and 5c. in Wheat, with considerable transactions. The orders from the other side are large.

By telegraph from New-Orleans, it is stated that in consequence of a falling off in the receipts of Cotton, the market has advanced i to le. P fb. Sterling Exchange, 109. Freights, in consequence of a better supply of tunnage, id., a decline of id.

$2,786 188, and of the month $8,135,125, against $4,612,406 same time last year. The Exports of the month reach $2,814,294. We have the following dispatch by telegraph:

They, Monday, Dec. 20, 1852.

A company has been organized in Rochester, with a cepital of $8,000,000, for con-tructing a Railroad between that city and Troy. Ten per cent, was subscriced and paid in. This is the project we alluded to some time since, but we shall not be surprised if the above announce ment be premature. The late advices from England has caused good deal of excitement in Iron. Common bars have sold as high as $62 50 P tun, and Rails at $70.

We hear some complaint that Pennsylvania does not pay her overdue Five Per Cents. The Treasurer of that State, under the authority of an act of the last session of the Legislature, authorizing the cancel-lation of the old State debt, and the creation of a new one at lower rates of interest, has published a statement by which he shows a saving to the Common wealth in the payment of interest during the whole time of the loan of $417,790 58. The receipts from the Public Works this year are $1,938,574; and as the North Branch Canal is rapidly approaching completion this amount will probably be largely increased.

At Boston, The Journal says: Negotiations for Money have been made with less freedom in Statest. for several days, but no particular increased demand is perceptible in the market. Discount rates range fraction higher, but are not willingly submitted to by borrowers. Desirable loans are effected at from 607 P cent without difficulty. Factory shares continue to attract buyers, and prices are running up from day to
